

Hello everyone, if I could have your attention for just a moment. For those of you who may not know me, I'm Taylor's younger sister, Ava and I have the honor of standing before you today as Taylor's maid of honor. Taylor, as we stand here on this breathtaking day

- IF THE WEATHER IS NICE: our entire family wants to tell you "WE TOLD YOU SO!" as you complained for hours about how the forecast said it might rain and told us "no it's going to be terrible, this app is always right".
- IF THE WEATHER IS NOT NICE: surrounded by the love of our friends and family, I am overwhelmed with joy to be able to speak to you and stand before everyone.

For as long as I can remember, Taylor has been my role model - and sometimes the most annoying sister ever - but mostly my role model. From my childhood days, and your adult days, of me abusing all of your super nice makeup products for my "Youtube channel", to today, as we keep secrets from Mom and Dad and gossip about celebrities, it has been filled with laughter and endless love. You have always been more than just a sister to me; you have been like a second mother to me, while Mom and Dad were always consumed with Dillon, it was so comforting to have you by my side.

You are the most supportive and dependable friend and sister, and I am so excited for you and Jeff to get married. That is, so we no longer have to deal with your constant drama and exaggerations... good luck Jeff! Kidding, of course. I'm only going to take a few more minutes of your time, but I just want to share the first text message I ever got from Taylor about Jeff.

I got this text from Taylor on June 25, 2021, and she said:

- "Want to know something you can't tell mom or dad or AJ"... DUH Taylor, spill!
- "Take this to your GRAVE Ava", okay, I need to know what's going on
- "I'll be so angry if you tell" come on Taylor, I'm waiting

- "I started dating this guy, and he's taking me to Turks and Caicos on July 20th. Lmao. He paid for the whole thing." I'm feeling excited for her, but also like I'm turning on a murder show... I ask her "Is it like a random guy"
 - "I mean, it's been like a month"
 - I said: "Omg. Don't get killed"

So Jeff, thank you for taking my sister to Turks and Caicos and for not killing her. I, along with everyone else here, appreciate it. On a real note, thank you Jeff for loving Taylor the way you do. It is evident how happy you make her and how much you care for her. It is really comforting to know that she has found someone who she can confide in every day, and who will be there to balance her out. As you take this journey together, I hope your marriage is filled with so much beauty, love, and adventure.

Now, I would like to raise a glass to Taylor and Jeff, to a lifetime of beach trips to Turks and Caicos, Nantucket, and Kiawah. I am so happy for the both of you.
